Congressional Committee Not Likely to Take Initi-

Washington, November 21 .- On week from next Monday Congress will reassemble in regular session and enter upon a tour of duty, in-pted only by the Christmas holidays, which will continue probably until the middle of June. Senators and representatives are arriving in small numbers, and the rash is likely to set in after Thanksgiving Day. Information is at hand to the effect that Chairman Underwood, of the Ways and Means Committee will not Ways and Means Committee, will not to work on tariff revision until after the President has seat his tariff mesaage to Congress.

The attitude of the committee, it is declared, is that "it is the President's next move," the contention being that the Democrats have shown their disposition toward tariff revision by the action of last session in passing the tariff bills which the President vetoed.

AROUND THE HOTELS

Little perturbed because of his defeat, which was the principal event of the campaign for the November election, Senator George B. Keezell came to the city last evening, and was greeted by across of riends in Murphy's lobby. He said that he had played the game and lost and, although inclined toward a suspicion that the carde were stacked, he was a good loser.

Senetor Keezeli reiterated his determination but to be a candidate for the office of Auditor of Public Accounts in opposition to those now in the race, although he has received many letters tendering him support

"It is calculated that by the prosent ordinary holding process, the farmer takes all chances of a rise in the market. By this plan he takes no more chances than he did before, and has every opportunity of maximum participation in a rise in the market, meantime paying the debts he has to pay and saving the losses sustained by damage and by loss of weight and warehousing charges.

Some one besides the farmer may make some money out of ti; but as that is done, the farmer is being assured several dollars a bale more than he would get under the present iniquitous marketing methodsods. We are therefore willing to the present iniquitous marketing methodsods. We are, therefore, willing to submit and recommend the proposition to our people, and if they wish to accept it then make it as effective as we can. There is no doubt the overproduction pledge that we have been pushing so successfully has checked the downward tendency of prices under the persistent harmmering up to this time. So far we have this time. So far we have up to this time. So far we have fought the battle unaided; now that money to the extent of $50,000,000 is offering, we may fight harder, and in the end, we hope, put a check to methods of marketing of a nationally important commodity which the Federal government ought to have wiped out long ago."

distinct movement was launched yestorday, with the approval of several South Richmond attorneys, which has for its object the appointment of Judge Ernest H. Wells, now presiding over the Hustings Court, Part 2, as judge of the Law and Equity Court, to suc-ceed Judge Ingram, and the abolition the separate court on the Southside It is conceded by the advocates of the plan that the consolidation could only no effected by the consent of the peole of South Richmond. The annexa tion agreement is in the nature of a contract between the municipality and the people annexed, and that agree-ment specifies that the Corporation Court of the former city of Manches-ter shall be responsed.

mont specifies that the Corporation Court of the former city of Manchester shall be permanently maintained as a court of the consolidated municipality, diothed with the powers and jurisdiction, civil and criminal, as a court of probate and registry, the sessions of that court to be held within the former territorial limits of the city of Manchester.

Would Solve Hard Problem.

It is pointed out by the advocates of the plan that this court was largely continued in order to provide for extain officeholders, all of whom, it is believed, can be fully provided for. Not only would the consolidation proposed save considerable money to the city and State, but it is stated that it would promote the execution of justice, since the business now transacted by the Southside court would be distributed between the Hustings, Chancery and Law and Equity Courts, neither feeling the added burden.

The plan proposes making the clork of the Southside court a deputy of the Hustings Court and making the Southside sergeant a deputy to the City Sergeant. It is claimed by the attorneys, including some South Richmond lawyers, that this would bring all the city courts in one building and eliminate the confusing and anomalous condition of maintaining a court of record for one ward, containing less than one-twelfth of the population. Already attorneys are finding confusion in searching property and chancery records, through there being two such courts of record in one city, and as the years go by this confusion will inevitably in crease.

on the docket of the Law and Equity Court.
City officials state that the matter is one which the Southside people alone one which the Southside people alone can determine. The city in the annexation negotiations acceded to their request for a separate court, and will live up to that agreement. But many people helieve that the advantages of a consolidation are so obvious that the leaders of action in South Richmond will indorse Judge Wells for the appointment, with the understanding that there will be no appointment to fill the vacancy created by his transfer to the vacancy created by his transfer to the City Hall.

TO VOTE NEXT WEEK ON CHARTER CHANGE

Ordinance Committee Names November 29 as Time at Which Action Will Be Taken on Initial Proposition.

ment will be discussed by the Coun-cil Committee on Ordinance, Charter and Reform, before which the ordinance for redistricting the city and nance for redistricting the city and creation of an administrative board are now pendin, on Wednesday night, November 29. The committee last night agreed on that date for a final hearing, the press being requested to make announcement that any parties wishing to be heard for or against the proposed measures should be present at that time.

Several members of the committee were ready to vote last night. Mr. Moneure announced himself as an enthusiastic advocate of the new plan of government, although he is, like Mr. Rennolds, of the special committee, one of the Aldermen who is practically legislated out of office. Mr. Bennett, another Alderman, who will not be eligible for re-election under the redistricting plan until the next election, is also a strong advocate, regardless of how it affects him personally. Mr. Vonderlehr was also willing to vote last night, but Mr. Umlauf stated that he had notified members of the Chamber of Commerce that, at their request, consideration of the papers would be deferred. In so important a matter, he stated, the committee wanted all the light possible.

Creating Unnecessary Jobs.

The committee took up the ordinance creating the office of superintendent of the municipal electric plant and directing how the works shall be conducted. Chairman Morgan R. Mills. of the Water Committee, appeared in vehement opposition. He was opposed to the whole ordinance as an unnecessary expense of $29,000 to $25,000 a year, merely to create jobs, he said, but his especial opposition was to that clause which specifies that the electric plant shall charge against the water works "not more than 2 cents per killowat hour for current used in water pumping."

"As chairman of the Water Committee," said Mr. Mills, "I tell you that if any such price is to be charged us by a municipal plant, we had rather use by a municipal plant, we had rather use the committee and you us by a municipal plant, we had rather buy our current elsewhere, and you can shut up your electric plant, You may say that it is a mere matter of bookkeeping between city departments, but I don't propose that this electric plant, which I believe to be a wholly unnecessary burden and expense to the city, shall ride to popularity on the shoulders of the water works.

city has built there, proposes to charge the Water Department for current cost of making current should at no

You can save $25,000 a year in unnecessary salaries by doing this, as well as save in the duplication of plants and waste of power."

Changes in the form of city government will be discussed by the Countil Committee on Ordinance, Charter and Reform, before which the ordinance for redistricting the city and reation of an administrative board to recommend their abolition and that the departments be consolidated and run on a business-like dated and run on a business-like basis?"

The ordinance was tabled to hear from Engineer Trafford and from Chairman Lynch, of the Electricity Committee. Committee.
The committee recommended an in-Committee.

The committee recommended an increase in the salary of the chief of police from $2,000 to $2,400 a year, and an extension of the time when the wide tire ordinance will take effect for six months from January 1. The time has been twice before extended.

An ordinance regulating the obstruction of the streets by building material was recommended for adoption.

Employing Three Chemists.

After debating a resolution asking a messenger for the City Chemists office, the committee appointed a subcommittee, consisting of Messrs, Vonderlehr, Brown and Kain, to consider the duties of the office of City Chemist and the statement recently made that since that office was created the cost of analyzing cement alone has been greater than the entire cost of the city's chemical work when done by contract. The committee was also instructed to inquire whether, with a City Chemist drawing a salary for his whole time, it was necessary to employ two other chemists, one in the Health Department and one in the Water Department. The methods of collecting samples for chemical analysis was also criticized.
